DUBLIN COACH EDUCATION PROGRAMME

Gaelic games are continually evolving and therefore it is important that coaches are provided with the opportunities to keep up to date with developments in coaching methods and best practice. Whether you are beginner coach or have been coaching for many years it is important to continually find ways to improve yourself in order to provide the best experiences for your players.

There are a number of things a coach can do to improve his/her coaching skills and experience outside of the formal in-depth coaching courses. Whilst courses can prove extremely beneficial there are many other ways to gain such knowledge:

- Attending one off workshops
- Talking to and observing other coaches
- Visiting Games Development website (www.dublingaagamesdevelopment.ie)

This booklet details the Dublin County Board Coach Education Programme. It is designed to support coaches through specifically planned courses, workshops and conferences incorporating internationally recognised principles of best practice. The programme allows coaches to continually develop their skills and progress at a rate suited to their own development.

Coach Education builds on the experiences of the coaches involved, as participants are encouraged to share their experiences, question practices and challenges views. The Games Development Programme for this year provides the best possible support in relation to Coach Education and Continuous Professional Development (CPD) through a wide variety of training workshops and courses.

This year's programme will focus again on the more formal Coach Education Programmes mainly Award 1 Youth & Adult courses as well as the new Code of Ethics and Good practice in children's sport. The new Foundation Award and Award 1 Child programmes will be available locally by contacting your Games Promotions Officer (G.P.O). We are also planning this year to introduce the Award 2 Child Programme.

Practical Workshops:

There will be a limited number of practical workshops in football & hurling and these will be targeted at specific age groups with workshops for Juvenile and Adult coaches.

Special Purpose award for Conditioning for Gaelic Games:

The Certificate in Conditioning for Gaelic Games now in its second year provides coaches with the principles needed to condition athletes effectively, analyse sporting movements and design skill development programmes. This innovative and enterprising initiative is the first FETEC level 6 training qualification designed, formulated, sponsored and delivered by a county board in conjunction with a third level institute of Technology. It will be delivered in modular format lasting 18 weeks and will involve formal assessment. The first year students are due to graduate in Spring 2011.

High Performance workshops

A new feature this year is the high performance workshops which will give you an enlightened understanding to the high performance environment in Gaelic Games.

Website:

The Games Development website has been updated with new videos and drills to provide, you the coaches, with fresh ideas. Additional information on all of the courses and workshops can be found there too www.dublinaagamesdevelopment.ie. To register for a course simply log on to register online and select the course you wish to attend.
